

LR 97 enacted. I am now asking that we end the debate on the issue that is allowed by the existence of this bill. I hope you will vote to indefinitely postpone it.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator Beutler, did you want to take it up today or not?

SENATOR BEUTLER: Mr. Speaker, I think it is time to fold. I wish to take it up today and I don't wish to argue it and I think it is time we put it past us. The argument has been made.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator DeCamp.

SENATOR DECAMP: Yes, but it is my bill. And I don't want to take it up. I may have a new idea by tomorrow.

SPEAKER NICHOL: I see Senator Beutler's name on it too.

SENATOR DECAMP: I have got banking ideas that you will be excited about.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Since the people whose names are on it are undecided, we are going to take it up now. I cast the deciding vote.

SENATOR DECAMP: Ohhh. Mr. President...

SPEAKER NICHOL: Do you want to talk about it?

SENATOR DECAMP: No, I have seen these rulings go against me pretty regularly on germaneness and everything else so I won't even fight it.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Thank you. Senator Higgins.

SENATOR DECAMP: It's wrong.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Oh, excuse me, I thought you were through. I'm sorry. Were you through, Senator DeCamp? Okay, Senator Higgins. Now try it.

SENATOR HIGGINS: Thank you, Mr. President. Maybe we ought to do something that has become very popular during this session. Perhaps we should make a motion to bracket it till January of 1986. How does that grab you?
